

General Ill Health,

DISEASE with no specific name, which seems to combine stomach disorder, heart trouble, blood disorder and a host of other ills, and which can be described only by saying you feel "all knocked out" and "good for nothing," means that your kidneys are overburdened and need relief. Kidney derangement is almost always at the bottom of general ill health. Your doctor knows this, but he usually treats the symptoms one at a time.

Foley's Guaranteed Kidney Cure gets at the bottom of these troubles and cures them all at once.

You run no risk. Satisfactory results are guaranteed.

If the real merits of BANNER SALVE were known, it were hard for dealers to sell any other sort of salve. It cures quickly and easily all wounds or sores, salt rheum, scald head, granulated eyelids or any disease of the skin, and it's guaranteed to cure piles.

For the first time in the history of the state a colored man is to be appointed census enumerator. Mr. Calderhead is responsible for the selection, and as usual the Fifth district sets the pace for the balance of the state.—Junction City Republican.

The Fifth district isn't quite the whole thing in this little matter. The Sixth district, too, will have a colored man for census enumerator—John Callhune Breckenridge Lewis, of Bogue, Graham county.—Osborne Farmer.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the infliction is demonic enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by Jones & Gibson, Druggists.

"Tis not the tuneless little birds that sing among the trees, 'tis not the lowing of the herds, or humming of the bees; 'tis not the babbling little brook that sings journeys by, nor daffodils that gaily send their incense to the sky; 'tis not the verdant coat of green that beautifies the lawn, nor even that my overcoat is safely back in pawn; 'tis not the man who rakes the lawn, the boy who fishing goes, nor is it still the housewife who manipulates her (garden) hose. But when I see the circus bill I'm filled with longings queer; there isn't any question then—I know that spring is here.—Ex.

J. Q. Hood, Justice of the Peace, Crosby, Miss., makes the following statement: "I can certify that One Minute Cough Cure will do all that is claimed for it. My wife could not get her breath and the first dose of it relieved her. It has also benefited my whole family." It acts immediately and cures coughs, colds, croup, grippe, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles. Jones & Gibson, Druggists.

We notice an absence of the name of either of the Pop or Democratic congressman at the head of the editorial columns in the Pop papers in this district. The straight-out democratic papers are putting up the

For some time Congressman Reeder has been looking after a special bill in the house for the granting of an increase in pension of our old soldier friend, J. A. Southard, and we are pleased to learn that through the efforts of Mr. Reeder it has passed the house and through the efforts of Senator Baker it has passed the senate and has gone to the president for his signature where it is safe to say the bill will be signed and Mr. Southard will get his money in due season. Mr. Southard is not worried over Mr. Reeder's oratory but thinks more of the money which he needs so badly than he does of a celebrated orator.—Stockton News.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try ONE bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by Jones & Gibson.

Otto Young, of Franklin township, brought to Kansas City this week a load of registered Red Polled cattle that he collected in Iowa. Mr. Young is an extensive breeder of fancy stock in Trego county, and in speaking about it said: "My section, which is almost entirely devoted to stock raising, shows a decided improvement in the herds, as we are now using registered bulls freely, and with excellent results on the quality of the stock. I prefer Red Polleds as they are solid color and show more markings in a cross with scrubs. We are enjoying good times at present. Many emigrants have come from eastern Kansas, looking for alfalfa bottom lands, and as they brought a good deal of money with them it has made us that much more prosperous, and raised the value of our land somewhat."—Mail and Breeze.

If troubled with rheumatism, give Chamberlain's Pain-Balm a trial. It will not cost you a cent if it does you good. One application will relieve the pain. It also cures sprains and bruises in one-third the time required by other treatment. Cuts, burns, rostitis, quinsy, pains in the side and chest, granular and other swellings are quickly cured by applying it. Every bottle warranted. Price, 25 and 50 cts. Jones & Gibson, Druggists.

A Serious Proposition.

Judge Monroe will face a serious proposition at the session of the district court Tuesday morning of next week. It is all over a law suit in which Judge Monroe's father, Cyrus Monroe, is plaintiff and Wallace county is defendant. Cyrus Monroe has sued Wallace county for payment upon certain county warrants, and Mrs. Lilly Day Monroe, Judge Monroe's talented wife, is plaintiff's counsel. The question is how is Judge Monroe going to sit in this case, maintain the dignity of his court and at the same time keep peace in the family? Suppose for instance, that the plaintiff's counsel should ask for judgment upon the pleadings. What is the judge going to do about it? We fancy that Judge Monroe is lying awake nights endeavoring to solve the problem, which every married man will at once admit is a serious one.—Sharon Springs Times.

Old Settlers' Reunion.

To all whom it may concern: All the old settlers of Trego county who have signified their desire to have an Old Settlers' reunion, and all others favorable to the project, are earnestly solicited to meet at the Court House in Wa-Keeney, on Saturday, May 5, 1900, for the purpose of calling a mass convention of the old settlers of Trego county to elect officers and perfect a permanent organization, and if thought best, to appoint a committee to draft by-laws subject to amendments, and approval of the mass convention.

Cromwell and His Men

Cromwell at once distinguished himself among his contemporaries, alike by the absolute obedience he rendered to his superiors, and by the incessant, unwearied activity with which he drilled his men in the use of their weapons and horses. He was speedily promoted to the colonelcy. In a news letter of the time his regiment was described as composed of "brave men; well disciplined. No man swears but he pays his twelvence; if he be drunk he is set in the stocks or worse if one calls the other Roundhead, he is cashiered; inasmuch that the counties where they come leap for joy of them, and come in and join with them. How happy were it if all the forces were thus disciplined!" Cromwell suppressed all plundering with an iron hand. An eminently practical man, not in the least a theoretical democrat, but imbued with that essence of democracy which prompts a man to recognize his fellows for what they really are, without regard to creed or caste, it speedily became known that under him anyone would have a fair show according to his merits. He realized to the full that the quality of troops was of vastly more consequence than their numbers; that only the best men can be made the best soldiers; and that these best men themselves will make but poor soldiers unless they have good training. His troops proved what iron discipline, joined to stern religious enthusiasm, could accomplish; just as later their immense superiority to the forces of the Scotch Covenanters showed that religious and patriotic enthusiasm, by itself, is but a poor substitute for training and discipline. In one of his letters he writes: "I beseech you, be careful what captains of horse you choose; what men be mounted. A few honest men are better than numbers. Some time they must have for exercise. If you choose godly, honest men to be captains of horse, honest men will follow them, and they will be careful to mount such. I had rather have a plain russet coated captain that knows what he fights for, and loves what he knows than that which you call a gentleman, and is nothing else.—Scribner's.

Travel in the Klondike

Two years ago the difficulties in reaching the Klondike were thought to be of such a nature as to preclude the probability or even possibility of Dawson ever becoming a place of permanent habitation. The trials of the hilkoot and White Pass were exploited in magazine and journal from one end of the continent almost to the other, and the wrecks of humanity, and particularly of the thousands of beasts that lay scattered along the trail—the tribute to the Sahara turned to shame—were appealed to as grim testimony of the almost insurmountable barrier which separated man from the object of his search. Today, and since July 6th of the past year (1899) a steam railway traverses the all forty two miles of the White Pass trail, and the traveler enjoys the beauties of the subarctic landscape in much the way that he enjoys the trip through the Alleghany Mountains in the east, or of the prairies in the west. Deposited at Bennett, on Lake Bennett, at virtually the head of navigation of the mighty Yukon river (otherwise known as the Lewes), he engages passage on one of the several commodious steamers heading down stream or northward, and with one change—at the Miles Canon and White Horse rapids, where there is a five-mile portage—reaches Dawson after a voyage delightful in its change of scene and novelty of experience, of from four to six days. It is a fact aptly expressed by the name of the steamer, that with a strict timing of York may make the journey to Dawson in summer time in twelve days and exceptionally even in less; and the journey has indeed already been made in eleven days and a half. Such is the change which the effort of less than two years has accomplished.—Appleton's Popular Science.

Order of the Garter

It is to be wondered that it has never occurred to Queen Victoria to revive the institution of appointing women as dames of the Order of the Garter. The early records of the order bear evidence that at the outset this was not only contemplated, but actually carried out. The names of several women of high rank are mentioned as having borne this distinction, and it would be especially appropriate to revive the custom in the reign of her majesty, who herself, as sovereign, is president of the order. The queen has shown herself mindful of the claims of her sex by creating orders of merit for the special benefit of women. The Garter is, however, entirely out of their reach, though there are many women of rank who would confer luster on the order as members. Moreover, it cannot be urged that the Garter is the reward for deeds which is out of the power of women to perform, for it is well known that it is reserved strictly for people of the highest rank. It was Lord Melbourne who remarked that what he specially liked about this decoration was that there was "no nonsense of merit about it."
